Dear Sabine and Citizens of Avignon,

I write on behalf of all nation members of the World Kindness Movement in my capacity as General Secretary to acknowledge the people of Avignon's milestone on the auspicious day the 9th of November 2014 to launch a week of celebrations for World Kindness Week in Avignon.

There is no doubt that France and indeed the world has it challenges ahead to see a kinder world for our children to inherit realised, however we will not be daunted by the challenges ahead we will inspire others as France continues to do with the courage of kindness.

We sincerely thank you for your commitment, passion and energy but most of all we thank you for your kindness. I have met with the French Consular General , Mr Eric Berti in Sydney to offer our heartfelt congratulations asking it be shared with the French community in Australia which I will have an opportunity to do directly with your President when he arrives in Sydney following the G20.

We look forward to seeing the movement continue to grow in France as more nations in the EU are inspired to join in the dialogue of kindness thereby bridging the divides of race, culture, religion, politics and gender through embracing the very best qualities that define the human condition. Whilst I am personally disappointed that I am not able to attend on this occasion, I look forward to receiving an invitation to witness Avignon become the first city in Europe to officially join and provide a "Declaration of Support" for a kinder world.

Thank you again and all my very best wishes for a wonderful week.

Kind regards,

Michael Lloyd-White
General Secretary
The World Kindness Movement
